

There was once an African village where dawn came very, very early.

“Good morning, Sun!”

“Good morning, Saya!”

Saya's parents listen to her concerns,
 "It's very important that our child learns!"
 The Sun above picks up a word or two,
 And fortunately, knows just what to do.

“Small actions can change the world,”
Says the Sun with a grin,
“UNICEF can help us,
If more people pitch in!”

